"WE ARE WITH YOU ONCE AGAIN, KIND FRIENDS."

"BY THE SAO SEA WAYE."

"O, HAD I THE WINGS OF A DOVE."

O, had I wings like a dove, I would fly
Away from this world of care:
My scoil would mount to realme on high,
And week for refuge there.

"THE NEBRA-KALITY."

Yes, liberty and human right,
Shall he a bright reality.
And we'll resist with all our might,
This mentroes Nebrashality.

"WHERE NOW IS GOOD OLD JACOS."

Safe in the promised land.

Don't you die, Miss Eva, dear,
Else I go deed too;
Tho' I've black. I've sure that God
Will let me go with you.

"THE SONG FOR COLD WATER."

Though alcohol has hed its day,
And great has been his slanghler,
He's now retreating in dismay,
And victory growne cold water.

"RIGHT OVER WIRONG."

No longer shall the bundman sigh bear sath the galling fetters;
He sees the dawn of freedom nigh, and reads their golden letters.

"THE SONG OF HOME."

"Though our days on earth are fleeting,

The sown or recomming, and teach the letter.

"THE SONG OF HOME."

Though our days on earth are fleeting, And all temporal joys retreating, Yet we hope for another meeting—Better far than days of yore—When through beavenly courts ascending, And with angel voices blending, And with angel voices blending, At our Beavenly Father's door—Sing the New Song forever more.

"MAN THE LIFE-BOAT"—DEACRIPTIVE. Man the life-boat, man the life boat.

Help, or your ship is lest. "TRUE FREEDOM" We want no blaze of murderous guns, To struggle for the right; Our spears and swords are printed words! The mind our battle plain: We've won such victories before.

We've won such victories before,
And so we shall again.

"WHERE SHALL THE SOUL FIND REST!"
Faith, Hope, and Love,
Best bocus to mortal given,
Waved their bright wlags,
And whispered "Yes! in heaven."

"THE GHOST OF UNCLE TOM."

THE MISCELLANEOUS, WORKS OF THE REV MATTHEW HENRY.

THE COMMENTATOR Containing in addition to those erectofore published, numerous Sermons and Papers, now first white from the original Means-stipts With forcy Sermons in what Christ is made to Salievers. By Philip Henry, &c.

printed from the original Mennanipra With forty Sermons on what Christ is made to Selievers By Phillip Henry, &c. 2 vols. Svo. 54.

The publishers will, we are saured, receive many thanks for piscing within the reach of the clergy, and the appreciating portion of the religious public generally, these additional treasures from the author of the Exposition of the Scriptures. Many who have been scenationed to resort te Henry's Commentary as an unfailing store-house of good things, will feet emething of the same joy on greeting these well-laden volumes, as does the California gold hunter, when he has unexpectedly aftered upon a new placer. They will find here the same happy qualities which have rendered the author such a service with all levers of Scripture truth expounded with true descenteres and a sparking receive—the same readiness and fertility of invention the same qualities and originality, the same point and pithiness, and the same readiness and fermility of invention the Exposition must rank as the magnum open of the author, his miscellaneous works are worthy of the same great mind. "In three two large volumes, of more than fourteen hundred pages, really printed in double columns, we have the miscellaneous works of the celearated author of the best practical Commentary on the Bible in our language. The name of Matthew Heary—nomen venerabile—one of the brightest stars of the severaleenth century, will introduce these volumes to the attention of ministers and Christian families extrasively."
